STANFORD, KY. TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1889.

NO. 66

MT. SALEM.

—John C. Estes is down, low with typhoid fever. George A. Sluder, of Evansville, Ind., is now on a visit to his father, Mr. George Sluder, Sr., after an absence of 15 years. His handsome wife is with him.

—M. L. Richards died at his home near this place at 1 o'clock A. M. Friday, the 27th ult. Being born in 1838, he was therefore 51 years old. His father, Mr. Samuel Richards, was a native of New Jersey; his mother was a sister of Mr. Craig Lynn, who died near Stanford some years ago. In 1862 he married Miss Hannah McCombe, of Randolph county, Missouri, she being at the time on a visit to relatives in this section and temporarily residing among them as a teacher. Eight children were the fruits of this union; five sons and three daughters, all of whom survive him, except his two oldest daughters. Commencing the battle of life with very limited means, by industry and economy in a few years he accumulated a sufficient amount to trade with advantage. He was a man of the most untiring energy and when the Cincinnati Southern railway was completed he devoted his business tact to the timber trade mostly and was remarkably successful. Overwork in connection with a not very robust constitution perhaps had something to do with the complicated diseases which shortened his days. He was liberal and charitable in his community and the people will feel his loss. He furnished, we are informed, almost the entire means to build the splendid school-house near his residence. He was buried with Masonic honors at the McKinney cemetery on Saturday. A large concourse followed his remains to the grave.

Moderly and Mason City, Mo., papers will please copy the above notice and also Bloomfield, Ia., Democrat.

The Bluegrass girl is more than equal to a poet's dream. White snow sleeps on her dreamy brow, and down her rounded throat grows whiter till it shines the lace that shields her virgin bosom from the sun. Pink spring with apple blossoms, petals the lingering drifts that long to die upon her cheek, and red summer slumbers with his heart at home within the curvings of her rounded lips. Clear-eyed and soft of voice, her step is light and springy as the touch the wild rose gives the mountain side when coyly fleeing from her untold lover, or as that of dappled fawn on dewy sward when morning kisses all the earth with tenderness. Round limbed, full bosomed, fair in every part, the wind dies dreamily within the meshes of her floating hair, content, swan like, to sing its last sweet song at the gateway of her little ear. In every motion is unstudied grace, in every uttered word a melody, down in her limpid eyes a paradise half guarded only by the long, soft lashes which she drops upon her cheek when looks too bold would penetrate the sanctuary. The sweetheart of a gallant boy, she grows to be the true wife of a noble man and soon has blossomed into motherhood to make the brain and brawn of old Kentucky richer in her progeny. —Falcon.

The 43d annual report of the commissioners of lunacy for Great Britain shows that there are in the kingdom 81,340 insane persons. Various causes of insanity are set forth in a table covering 116,478 cases. Of these 9,569 persons lost their reason from domestic trouble, 8,000 from "adverse circumstances," 8,278 from overwork and worry, 4,709 from religious excitement, and 18,200 from intemperance. The influence of heredity was ascertained in 28,063 cases and congenital defect in 5,881.

A large cave, sparkling with gold, silver and sapphires has been discovered in the Lincoln mine at San Pedro, which has long produced ore of great value. The cave is about 100 feet long by 50 wide and the sides are thickly studded with the precious metal and stones, while bowlders of carbonate were found scattered on the floor. The company only recently refused $250,000 for this mine. The camp is greatly excited.

The city of Brooklyn can probably boast of having the largest bread bakery in the world. Seventy thousand loaves a day it usually turns out, requiring 300 barrels of flour. Three hundred and fifty persons are employed in the bakery and for delivering the bread in New York, Brooklyn and adjacent places, over 100 wagons, constructed for the purpose are in constant use.

A patent for the manufacture of artificial maple sugar has been issued. It is made by adding to a gallon of ordinary sugar syrup three tablespoonfuls of a decoction made from hickory bark. The inventor says that this syrup cannot be distinguished from the genuine maple syrup.

Horace Greeley gave wonderful good advice when he said a man should never change his business after he was 35 years old, unless he was a horse thief. —Western Rural.

Progress of Inventions Since 1845.

In the year 1845 the present owners of the Scientific American newspaper commenced its publication, and soon after established a bureau for the procuring of patents for inventions at home and in foreign countries. During the year 1845 there were only 592 patents issued from the U. S. Patent Office, and the total issue from the establishment of the Patent Office up to the end of that year, numbered only 1,317.

Up to the first of July, this year, there have been granted 406,413. Showing that since the commencement of the publication of the Scientific American there have been issued from the U. S. Patent Office 405,101 patents, and about one third more applications have been made than have been granted, showing the ingenuity of our people to be phenomenal, and much greater than even the enormous number of patents issued indicates. Probably a good many of our readers have had business transacted through the office of the Scientific American, in New York or Washington, and are familiar with Munn & Co.'s mode of doing business, but those who have not will be interested in knowing something about this, the oldest patent soliciting firm in this country, probably in the world.

Persons visiting the office of the Scientific American, 361 Broadway, N. Y., for the first time will be surprised, on entering the main office, to find such an extensive and elegantly equipped establishment, with its walnut counters, desks and chairs to correspond, and its enormous safes, and such a large number of draughtsmen, specification writers and clerks, all busy as bees, reminding one of a large banking or insurance office with its hundred employees.

In conversation with one of the firm, who had commenced the business of soliciting patents in connection with the publication of the Scientific American more than 40 years ago, I learned that his firm had made application for patents for upward of 100,000 inventors in the United States and several thousands in different foreign countries, and had filed as many cases in the Patent Office in a single month as there were patents issued during the entire first year of their business career. This gentleman had seen the Patent Office grow from a sapling to a sturdy oak, and modestly hinted that many thought the Scientific American, with its large circulation, had performed no mean share in stimulating inventions and advancing the interests of the Patent Office. But it is not alone the patent soliciting that occupies the attention of the 100 persons employed by Munn & Co., but a large number are engaged on the four publications issued weekly and monthly from their office, 361 Broadway, N. Y., viz. The Scientific American, the Scientific American Supplement, the Export Edition of the Scientific American and the Architects and Builders Edition of the Scientific American. The first two publications are issued every week and the latter two the first of every month.

The late Andrew Steele died intestate, but all of his children, being of age, came forward voluntarily, and joined in a deed giving their mother the fee simple to the whole property. This instance of filial affection is as touching as it is beautiful and uncommon, and it is the strongest possible evidence that their father had taught them the lesson of self denial and affection for their mother more honorable to his memory than monumental marble. —Lexington Gazette.

A curious calculation has been made by French statisticians concerning the value of gold used in the United States for filling teeth and other dental purposes. They calculate that in less than 100 years there will be more gold buried in American cemeteries than the sum total of that precious metal now in France.

The new pension building extends nearly the entire width of Judiciary Square, from 4th to 5th streets and from G nearly to F street. It is by far the largest building in the world devoted to the examination and settlement of claims for pensions. It is built of red brick and cost several hundred thousand dollars.

A few more rapidly-rolling years flowing past like a river, vanishing like a dream, youth will be gone and the world will look elsewhere and reject those who have not already learned to reject it. Let us then love that eternal beauty which never grows old, and which endows its lovers with perpetual youth.

"I like the click of the type in the composing stick of the printer better than the click of the musket in the hands of the soldier. It bears a leaden messenger of deathlier power, of sublimity force and sorer aim, which will hit its mark though it is a thousand years ahead." —Chapin.

Begg's Cherry Cough Syrup.

Is giving splendid satisfaction in the trade and the sales are positively marvelous, which can be accounted for in no other way except that it is without doubt the best on the market. Ask for and be sure you get the genuine. We keep it. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. T. J. Cummins was installed pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Richmond Sunday.

—The National Convention of the Christian Churches will be held at the First Christian church, Louisville, on the 22-25.

—To last reports the meeting at Mt. Horeb, Fayette county, conducted by Revs. Evans and Hopper, had resulted in 18 additions.

—Rev. Ira Porter, a captain in the Salvation Army, was sentenced at Winchester, Ind., to six months in jail to pay a fine of $500 for seduction.

—The W. C. T. U., in its State meeting at Hopkinsville, resolved against cigarettes and tobacco and in favor of the same penalty for prostitution against both sexes.

—The protracted meeting held at the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church by Rev. W. H. Felix, closed Sunday night. During the meeting there were 24 additions to the church.—Midway Clipper.

—In refutation of the story published that there are no churches in Hurlan and but few school-houses, the News, of that county, offers to prove that there are 35 churches and 52 school-houses within her limits.

—The late Cincinnati Conference of the M. E. Church adopted a report "that no divorce, except for adultery, shall be regarded as lawful, and that no minister shall solemnize a marriage when either party has been divorced save as above stated."

—The Jefferson Street Methodist church, at Louisville, which was dedicated only a few days ago, caught fire from some oiled rags and would have been destroyed but for the dream of Miss Belle Ferguson, who went to the church and found the altar in flames.

—It is pretty tough on a congregation to listen to the same preacher for 40 years. In 160 years the Presbyterian church at Bethlehem, N. J., has had but 10 pastors, three of whom included the present incumbent have served 40 years each.

—A Baptist church, consisting of 11 members, was organized at Judge J. R. Sampson's law office Monday night at Middlesborough. Elder R. C. Medaris, Leander Clouse and L. M. Sharp constituted the council. The church meets in prayer meeting every Wednesday night, and in Sunday-school every Sunday morning at Judge Sampson's law office. There will be preaching every second and fourth Sundays in each month.—Cumberland Gap.

A citizen of this place was presiding some years ago over the deliberations of a meeting and things were not going to suit him. He finally delivered the following opinion: "According to parliamentary law, it requires a two-thirds vote to carry that motion, and the chair decides that there are not that many here." The meeting at once adjourned. That settled it.—Atchison (Kan.) Champion.

If the realm of home woman is the queen. Home takes its cue and its hue from her. If she is in the best sense womanly—if she is true and tender, loving and heroic, patient and self-devoted, she consciously or unconsciously organizes and puts in operation a set of influences that do more to mould the destiny of the nation than any man, unaided by power or eloquence, can possibly do.

A smart young lady recently entered a railway carriage already occupied by three or four members of the opposite sex. One of them in the familiar style we know so well, produced a cigar and his match box and said—"I trust madam that smoking is not disagreeable to you?" "Really sir," with the sweetest of smiles "I can't tell, for as yet no gentleman has smoked in my presence!"

Samuel Sands, who is probably the oldest printer living, being in his 90th year, attended the recent celebration in Baltimore of the 75th anniversary of the bombardment of Ft. Mifflin. As an apprentice in the office of the Baltimore American he first put "The Star Spangled Banner" in type from the author's original manuscript and distributed it through the streets of the city.

Mrs. Homespun—"I'll tell you where you can find a job of sewing five cords of wood, poor man?" Tramp (eagerly):—"Where, ma'am?" Mrs. Homespun—"Just around the corner of the next street." Tramp—"Thank ye, ma'am; I'm much obliged. I might have run right into it if it hadn't been for you."—American.

"Darling," he said, "your eyes are as bright as diamonds, your teeth as white as pearls, your lips as red as rubies and—and—" "Yes, George," she replied sweetly, "and you're as green as an emerald." Then George went out into the jet black night.—Jewellers' Weekly.

A half ounce of ground quassia, steeped in a pint of vinegar, is recommended highly as a cure for drunkenness. A teaspoonful in a little water should be taken every time the liquor taste is felt. It satisfies the craving and produces a feeling of stimulation and strength.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Will Ramsey, a boy of Pine Hill, had a finger jerked off by having it caught in a bridle rein on a plunging horse.

—Two men were arrested at Livingston Sunday, charged with shooting at switch lights and tearing down caution boards belonging to the railroad. They will be brought here to-day, Monday.

—The Miles City (Montana) Courier announces Dr. R. G. Redd for State Senator from that county and says the doctor will be elected. Doc is a Rockcastle boy and will do honor to his native State.

—L. B. Adams has closed out his remaining goods in stock and retired from the mercantile business. F. L. Thompson now occupies the Adams building and Dr. Davis will move his drug store to the building vacated by Thompson.

—Three brothers, T. C. White, of Crab Orchard, H. G. White, of Tazewell, Tenn., and R. M. White, of Greenfield, Mo., were here last week. It was their first meeting for 24 years. R. M. White proposes to return here next spring, backed by a company, to drill for oil and develop some of our mineral resources.

—Mrs. Lucy Nield has returned from a lecturing trip to Hopkinsville. C. Crooke was down Sunday to see the children. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown are in Louisville to have their little son treated. Mace Miller is working at Livingston during the sickness of Rolla Guthrie, the agent. J. W. Stephens was here from Berea Sunday. Mrs. Kate O'Mara and children, with Miss Georgia Croe, of Tennessee, are visiting relatives here. Hugh and Tom Miller, Mrs. Mollie Lovell and Misses Mattie Newcomb and Leila Williams went to Louisville Sunday night.

—Toles Wallace, our noted fisherman, has long desired to do some underground or cave fishing in the Sinks of Roundstone. Last Wednesday, against the advice of friends, he made the venture and went into the hole for a good distance. Chambering over many drift piles and large bowlders he found by the aid of torches a fine-looking lake, into which he had scarcely dropped his hook when it was snapped off instantly. He caught several nice bass, one three pounder, two salmon and a big eel. His torches gave out. Says he will go prepared next time to catch 50 pounds.

In Due Form.

A man was arraigned in an Arkansas court, several years ago, for stealing a pig out of his neighbor's pen, said pig, or shoat, being alleged to be worth $1.50.

The evidence was conclusive and the jury after a brief retirement brought in their verdict. "Guilty of hog stealing in the first degree."

The judge remarked that the finding was proper enough, except that it failed to assess the value of the pig, and further that there was no degree in hog stealing. He must ask the jury to retire again and bring in the verdict in due form.

The jury went out with pen, ink and paper, but were badly nonplused over that word "form." Finally one of them, who had formerly been a justice of the peace, drew up a document to which the other 11 assented, and with which all hands returned to the court room. This was the verdict:

"We, the jury, unanimously find the defendant guilty in the sum of 1 dollar and a 1/2 in favor of the hog."—Youth's Companion.

THE USE OF ICE IN PNEUMONIA.—The London Lancet refers to the success which has attended the treatment of pneumonia by the application of ice. The method adopted is to apply over the affected lung an India rubber bag containing ice continuously for from 12 to 24 hours after the crisis. In addition to the local treatment, the patients are given such medicines as are usually employed, that is to say, opium, ippecacuanha, digitalis, brandy, etc.

"My friends are responsible for my being here," said the prisoner, bitterly. "How was that?" asked the sympathetic visitor. "I was sentenced to be hanged, but they got the governor to commute it to life imprisonment."—Harper's Bazar.

"Since you have insisted on trying my hat on Miss Mabel, I shall certainly claim the forfeit." "I don't know what you mean, sir, and besides, this isn't a good place; they can see us from the hotel."

TANNER is not pension commissioner any more, but he is doing as much talking and writing as ever, and thereby keeping the administration in hot water. He wrote a long private letter to that other pestiferous crank, Private Dalzell, to which after unbecomingly himself in a free and easy way, he adds a postscript saying, "I have written you with great freedom. Don't give me any cause to regret it by saying anything about this letter. It is to you solely." But Dalzell paid no attention to this request and gave the letter to the press. Secretary Noble comes in for his share of blame, while others are treated without gloves. With becoming candor the old fellow admits that he stepped out in preference to being kicked out. He says: "I have not the slightest doubt but that I would have been removed if I had not resigned; in fact I know it. Noble had certainly pronounced his ultimatum to be my head or his resignation; and of course, a break in his cabinet would have embarrassed President Harrison greatly." Concluding, he throws out a feeler to Ohio veterans as follows: "Of the future I know nothing. If the boys, and particularly those in Ohio, acquiesce, why, it is safe to say that Tanner will be left where he is—in the soup." The letter settles the latter question. If the looter had any show for another appointment before, it went glimmering when Dalzell betrayed his confidence and the public can rest assured that he is out for good, unless the G. A. R. forces Harrison to do something for him. His original appointment was with a view to holding the soldier vote and the desire to placate that class of voters may cause him to be laddled out of the soup tureen and again given a fat job. Harrison was not fooled in selecting him to be commissioner, for it is charged that he was aware that he was placing in a most important and responsible office a man who was universally known in his own neighborhood to have traded politically wholly upon his service as a soldier and never to have shown any other fitness or ability for important office than an unbridled tongue and unbounded "cheek."

Enough of the true inwardness of the result of the pension office investigation has leaked out to show that a great deal of rottenness grew and fostered under Tanner, though the report is said to have been doctored to some extent to let the late commissioner down as easily as possible. Nearly all the office force were re-rated, some getting back pay to the amount of $6,000 and more, without excuse or justification. The odor of scandal will continue to cling to this administration, which has made an exceedingly bad start to perpetuate its rotten party in power.

CARLE HARRISON, ex-mayor of Chicago and formerly of Kentucky, has issued an address to the citizens of his native State urging their assistance in securing for Chicago the World's Exposition of 1892, adding: We promise you, if Chicago be selected to perform this pleasure and duty for her country, she will splendidly fulfill all expectations and accomplish every wish her proudest citizen may entertain—not forgetting, on such an occasion, to show to such of you as shall grace her borders some of that generous hospitality for which you are so justly famed.

The Louisville Post had an item making Lovig W. Gaines, of the Clarksville Tenn., Progress, the hero of an eloquent with a Southern Kentucky belle, but it is evidently a mistake. Mr. Gaines writes us that since we printed his picture and said he was in the matrimonial market, he has been deluged with letters from the fair sex offering to make him a Benedict. So it will be seen that there is no occasion for him to elope to marry. Some girl may run off with him, but he doesn't have to run off with a girl.

JUDGE BARBOUR says he will be a candidate to succeed himself as Superior Court judge, if the legislature shall see proper to continue the court. Of course that body will see proper to continue it. There are few offices created that are ever abolished and we expect to see an additional judge put in the court instead of dispensing with the services of the other three.

This is a great country. A man-of-war has just been dispatched to Hayti for no other purpose than to carry Fred Douglas, the negro minister, thereto. Considering the value of the services of a minister to that little island, it would seem that the "nagur" might have gone on some vessel sailing for there or taken a canoe or dug-out and propelled himself thither.

The court of appeals has decided that the Fleming county prohibition law, which makes it a crime even to give a man a drink of liquor, is unconstitutional, and thus does the glorious cause get another black eye.

At Blountsville, Ga., a man was fined $200 for kissing a pretty girl without her consent. Stolen kisses may be the sweetest, but they come pretty high sometimes.

If the people along the line from here to Nashville ever expect to do anything to secure the building of the road, we believe now is the time they should make a move. Several of the counties have voted to take stock in the Cincinnati, Alabama & Atlantic and Pulaski is to vote next Saturday on the question of subscribing $75,000. If the road is built, it is more than probable that the Kentucky Central will extend from Livingston to Somerset, unless a more desirable offer is made to them from this point, which we believe is the most practicable. With the proper effort in Lincoln, Casey, Adair, Metcalf, Monroe and Allen counties, we can secure the building of a road which will open up a splendid territory and be of incalculable benefit to each of the counties. The opportunity to do something is now within their grasp and if enterprising men along the line will awake to the importance of the effort, the road will be built on their line. We would especially urge upon our own people to shake off their lethargy and begin at once to do something for themselves and their posterity by inducing the C. & N. or some other company to build the line before the opportunity forever slips from them.

The Jessamine county democrats have decided to adopt the Woodford plan of holding primary elections and have fixed on Oct. 14th as the day to begin. The plan is as follows: "A committee of three good men will be appointed from every precinct to go to every man's house in the precinct and take his vote at the voter's own home, where it will be deposited in the ballot box. If any man is absent it is his own fault. Furthermore the committee is to keep traveling if it takes a week to get all the votes." How would our democratic voters and candidates like the plan?

The prisoner, Clem, who refused to go with the other prisoners when they broke jail at Harlan, wishes now he had not been so conscientious. The jury gave him a life sentence for the murder of Stewart and the troops have been placed on duty to see that he does not make his escape. The jury was out at the time of the jail delivery and Clem was so sure that it would follow the usual custom of the section and acquit that he thought he had a better thing than running off. A life sentence is something new under the Harlan sun.

HANSON PENN DILTZ, of Hopkinsville, who has made several worthy contributions to literature, is about to issue a novel entitled, Dumbleth Abbey, or the Fatal Inheritance. It will be bound in cloth and sold at $1.50. Considerable anxiety is felt among his brethren of the quill to see the new work, which will be printed by G. W. Dillingham, New York.

This is Louisville's gala week. The fall celebration is in progress and she is putting the big pot in the little one with unusual success. Half fare on all the railroads will induce many hayseeds to take in the big show and in turn be taken in by sharpers, who are ever on the lookout for suckers.

—B. F. Curtis and John Wallace, a letter carrier, of Cairo, Ill., quarreled over the removal of Tanner and the latter struck Curtis over the head with a molasses jug, producing injuries that resulted fatal.

—Maj. Gen. D. H. Hill, a distinguished officer of the C. S. A., died last week in Charlotte, N. C., aged 68. Since the war he has been engaged in the publication of the Field and Farm in the town of his adoption.

—Reinhold Holzfarb, the train robber, stage robber, murderer, burglar and general bandit, who was captured a few days ago at Republic, Mich., has escaped from the Bessemer, Mich., jail, along with several other prisoners.

—George Howard, a negro convict from Grayson county, committed suicide in his cell at Frankfort with a small piece of rope, which he had gotten hold of in some way. It is very unusual for one of his race to take his own life.

—The Powell court, after giving the entire week to the attempt to get a jury in the case against the parties for the assassination of John A. Rose, adjourned after securing 11, as it was then too late to try the case during the week's term.

—The second section of a Hudson Central passenger train crashed into its disabled second section, near Palatine Bridge, N. Y. A Wagner coach filled with people was demolished and five were killed and five wounded. The blame is on the flagman.

—The News says that W. E. Bell, who has been clerk of the Anderson court for 21 years, has resigned to take the position of assistant cashier in the Lawrenceburg Bank. Judge Bellhaven will likely appoint Squire J. A. McGuire till the next August election.

—The Army of the Tennessee adopted a resolution which declares in favor of pensioning the old, feeble and disabled soldiers and their widows and orphans, but does not favor a general service pension for every soldier who enlisted but did not either march or fight in the war.

—It was proved before the coroner that the freight engine which telescoped a passenger coach at Chicago last Tuesday evening, killing six people, was driven by a drunken engineer, who had just been reinstated from his third suspension for intoxication by his father, who is master mechanic of the road.

—Down at Laverne, Ala., a negro was appointed postmaster against the protests of most of the citizens, who determined that he should not hold the office. They were successful, but lost the office in the attempt, Wainmaker having ordered it discontinued when he learned of the methods employed.

—The right of free speech seems to be abridged in Pulaski. The Reporter says: "The opposition to the railroad among some of the people about Tateville is so strong that when Mr. James May went there to speak yesterday some of the citizens threatened violence and so intimidated him that he was afraid to attempt to speak."

—Mary Jane Graves has filed suit at Flemingsburg for $20,000 damages against Charles A. Graves, her grand-father, for seduction. The petition alleges that he accomplished her ruin when she was in her 12th year, and that at 13 years of age she gave birth to a child which died just before the filing of the suit. The defendant is well-to-do and has hitherto taken a very active interest in church matters.

THE GREATEST SALE

Miss NETTIE WYATT left yesterday for Louisville to spend a couple of months with her sister, Mrs. J. T. LYNN.

MESSES. J. T. CRAIG and H. K. HELM went to Louisville Friday and took in the Booth and Barrett performance.

Miss BETTIE B. ELLIOTT, an accomplished young lady of Kansas City, is the guest of the Messrs. Benzley, of Logan's Creek.

JUDGE J. A. LITTLE, of Kansas, returned with his sister, Mrs. Jack Bosley, and Miss Josie Bosley, Saturday, and is now their guest.

Mr. T. J. FOSTER and family have moved to Dr. Reid's house and Mr. John E. Foster and wife will live with them for the present.

Miss ESTELLE TIMBERLAKE, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. T. A. ELKIN, at Maples, returned to her southern home Friday.

E. T. FOSTER, late of this county, is a candidate for magistrate in Fayette county and the Transcriber says he has a warm endorsement.

AFTER 11 weeks' confinement with sciatica, Mrs. S. J. Embury was able to attend church Sunday, to the very great delight of her friends.

D. W. VAN DYKE, president of the Stanford & Lancaster Turnpike, has 15 or 20 wagons hauling gravel on, and getting it in good shape for winter travel.

The Pineville Messenger speaks of Col. W. G. Sals as one of the largest and handsomest officials of the L. & N. Corridor. He has a handsome wife, too, and don't you forget it.

The Lexington Press has this of a former McKinney man: "Mr. G. W. Shultz, General Agent Queen and Crescent Route, and wife, arrived home from New York last night."

Mrs. BLAIR and Miss Kate Blair passed down to Hintonville yesterday with Dr. Blair, who seems a mental and physical wreck. The family hope a change of scene will restore him though.

The resignation of John Pearl, who was one of the best mail clerks on this division, has been accepted and he will give his entire attention to merchandizing at London, where he and Smiling Dave Jackson have a store.

JOHN ENGLEMAN, of Helena, Montana, is visiting his parents here. Since his sojourn in the West Mr. Engleman has made quite a reputation as a race horse man and added a considerable amount to his fortune.

MESSES. A. A. WARREN and Peter Hampton, as special agents for the General Lodge of Knights of Honor, went to Lancaster Friday and succeeded in reviving the lodge there and obtaining 15 new applicants for membership.

ELOPMENT.—George Daugherty and Miss Annie, daughter of David Stringer, eloped to Tennessee Sunday for the purpose of becoming man and wife.

NATH IS PHROD.—The following dispatch was received Saturday from Danville: "Congratulations received on a 10 pound boy at my house last night. N. H. Woodcock."

LOST.—Between the Lancaster toll gate and the railroad bridge on the Hintonville pike, a $5 Smith & Wesson pistol. Finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at this office.

The democratic county committee has been called to meet at Chairman T. H. Newland's office next Saturday afternoon. Business of importance demands a full attendance and it is hoped every member will be present.

BAIL.—Judge Morrow allowed bail in the sum of $1,500 to Betty Wickliffe, the negro who killed Evan Warren. The proof before the court must have been very different from that which has reached here to make the case a bailable one.

"When you see the new moon hang so far in the South, as it does this time, expect warm, pleasant weather for the next four weeks," says Prognosticator John S. Hays, who also says it is all bosh about next winter proving very cold. On the contrary an open one may be expected.

TO THE TAX PAYER OF LINCOLN COUNTY.—1 or more deputies will be in Hintonville, Saturday, September 28th and Sunday, October 26th; Millersburg, Saturday October 26th; Moreland, Friday, October 26th; McKinney, Friday, October 26th; Fry's Store, Saturday, October 26th; Wayneburg, Saturday, September 28th and Sunday, October 19th; Highland, October 12th; Stanford, Crab Orchard and Kingsville every Saturday in September and October. The new revenue law adds 6 cents to every dollar of tax not paid by the first day of November and I am compelled by law to collect it, so everybody will please pay their taxes before that time. T. H. Newland.

THERE has been a move made by some of the young men here to organize a club after the order of the Pelham or Pendergast, of Louisville, or even the thriving Madison Club at Richmond. Such an institution would prove of intrinsic value to those young men, or old men, either, who have not as yet taken to themselves a helpmeet, and who as a general thing spend their evenings in a lullum and lonely way around their own hearthstones. In the first place secure a comfortable room, or a suite of rooms, if the finances permit, furnish it so as to put on an inviting appearance, and then supply it with good literature and the success of the club is assured. The cost of such an enterprise would be comparatively nothing as compared with the good that would result therefrom and we hope and believe that immediate steps will be taken for the cause, which is a most praiseworthy one.

Said a contractor to us yesterday, "There never has been in my recollection such a dull season in house building in Stanford as the present fall. There is absolutely none of consequence going on and there are slim prospects of any. A number of our carpenters have had to seek work at Middlesborough, where any kind of a mechanic is in demand at $2 to $2.50 a day." Nearly every branch of business seems at the same standstill here as building and we can see no hope for better times unless our people will bestir themselves to secure the building of the Chesapeake & Nashville or some other Southern route. While other towns are doing their best to induce railroads to build to them, ours is quietly doing the Rip Van Winkle act with no hope of a more prosperous awakening. We must do something and that at once if we ever expect to increase in wealth and numbers, otherwise we are fenced in forever.

JONES BROS. are receiving a stock of boots and shoes.

Notice the beautiful sackings in the window of Owsley & Craig.

New lot of jewelry and watches just received. W. B. McRoberts.

We are opening up the largest lot of fall and winter goods we have ever handled. Owsley & Craig.

Our fall stock of millinery has arrived and we cordially invite the ladies to call and examine it. Courts & Cox.

The Louisville train, with an extra car, was loaded to the guards yesterday with people taking advantage of the half rates now being offered.

That enterprising young merchant, Mr. Thomas Metcalf, has just received a car-load of stoves, both cooking and heating. A pretty big order for a city of this size.

MATT GALES, the baseballist who took Will Foster's shoes from the Portman House, returned them Saturday night. He says that he could not find his and having to take the night train, he had no alternative than to get the first pair in sight.

The Stanford Branch of the Southern Building & Loan Association of Knoxville, was organized here Saturday night with W. A. Tribble, president and attorney; J. A. Carpenter, W. R. Hill, W. M. O'Brien, M. F. Hulst, J. H. Holberman, J. S. Hocker and James A. Mudd directors. The stock is divided into shares of $100 and $25 have already been placed here.

JOHN WARREN, the man who was so seriously stabbed by Steve Estes, over the school tax in his district, is reported as able to sit up. It takes a good deal to kill some men and Mr. Warren is evidently of the tough variety. He has recently served a term in the penitentiary for killing a man named Chappel, who wasn't the first man he had shot. While a member of the Home Guards during the war, he blazed away at Henry Owsley, who was a rebel sympathizer, and tore his arm off. He is about 60 years old and said to be dead game.

The case of A. M. Feland against White, Embanks, Robinson and others, for $5,000 damages for trespass, which was twice tried here with hung juries each time, is occupying the Boyle circuit court for the second time, its last trial there on a change of venue resulting in a verdict of only $100 for Feland, who sought and obtained a new trial. The case commenced Thursday and is not likely to get to the jury before this afternoon. The plaintiff is represented by W. H. Miller and Robert Harding and the defense by R. P. Jacobs, R. C. Warren, John W. Yerkes and D. R. Carpenter.

As a distinguished citizen hereabouts is wont to say "Mark my prediction," so say we with regard to the nomination of the next democratic candidate for president. Grover Cleveland is as sure to be made our standard bearer as the time arrives and he is just as sure to lead our hosts to victory. His admirable message on the importance of tariff reduction has become the key note of the democracy everywhere, except perhaps in Virginia, and the people are beginning to awaken to the truth of everything contained in it. They also know that he is honest and incorruptible and that his virtues shine more resplendent than ever when contrasted with the little man, who is now rattling around in his shoes. Grover Cleveland will be our next president and when he is inaugurated the democrats will be in charge of the government to remain.

Who is HE?—The Louisville Critic locates an incident which occurred in this section some time since, that may be of interest to our readers. The characters are a sanctimonious pastor with a bible and a delicate and shrinking wife with a sickly baby, and the scene a Knoxville train. The cleric individual in a Prince Albert and plug hat read from his bible, all the while showing impatience with the crying child. Finally he caught the poor little thing and laying it across his lap struck it a dozen severe blows. The mother's eyes filled with tears and the whole car was filled with indignation till a man lurled a copy of Sam Jones' sermons that he had been reading at the brute's head striking him above the ear and sending his plug careening down the aisle. Had the Heavens fallen on the clerical fraud he would not have been more astounded, but he did nothing further than recover his hat and corrugate his brow in a threatening way. The passengers laughed, the gentleman picked up his book and resumed reading while the mother strove in vain to hush the pitiable cries of the child. At Stanford the preacher took his plug and his shiny coat, and his well-thumbed bible and stalked haughtily out of the car. His wife followed meekly, but before she reached the door she turned to the gentleman who had thrown the book and gave him a smile of thanks and a look of the sincerest gratitude. Everybody in the car went over to the gentleman's seat and congratulated him upon the rebuke he had given to the preacher. The man who had the nerve to do this was Judge Thomas F. Hargis and it can be safely said that no copy of Sam Jones' sermons was ever put to better use.

FIFE & MAY gave a free legerdmain performance on the street last night, which of course was well attended. That kind always are.

My jeweler, Mr. B. Danks, has arrived and is ready to wait on any who wish anything done in his line. He is also an expert engraver and will do that kind of work at very reasonable rates. W. B. McRoberts.

If a single Lincoln county republican has gotten an office yet, the fact does not appear. The long-deferred hope is making many of the faithful very weak-kneed and we would not be surprised if it also makes democrats out of them.

TAKE NOTICE.—We have opened a first-class grocery store at Rowland and ask a share of the patronage of the people there and throughout. Quick sales and small profits is our motto and we will convince those who give us a trial that we mean what we say. Carrier & Watts, Rowland.

The Garrard county committee is endeavoring to nominate a democratic ticket for county offices without the cost and bad effects of a primary. The majority of the candidates are willing to submit their claims to the committee to decide who are the strongest men, and next Saturday has been fixed to settle upon the standard bearers.

AFTER making all the girls bow legged and knock-kneed the trustees have asked for bids for repairing the miserable pavement, which runs along the College grounds and they will perhaps get it fixed in a year or two. The council should force its immediate construction for the present pavement is a disgrace to the town.

The negro boy, Bud Blanks, who shot Lige Merit and afterwards made his escape from Jailor Owens, was brought here Friday by Mr. Joel Embury, of Madison, for whom he has been working for a month or more. At his examining trial Saturday he was admitted to bail in the sum of $200. Blanks is a slick citizen and this was not the first time he had given a jailer the slip. He did Mr. Newland so several years ago.

The Courier-Journal says that the citizens of Lancaster and Garrard county, seem determined to secure an extension to that place of the Louisville Southern railroad, and a few days since Messrs. Brown and Moore, representing the county, called on Col. Bennett H. Young and made him an offer of $100,000 if he would build the short strip of track which would make the desired connection. Harrodsburg also wants the extension and will subscribe for it, while the people between Burgin, the present terminus, and Lancaster, are willing to do all in their power to get the extension made, and a meeting will shortly be held at the latter place to formulate a proposition to Col. Young from them.
